

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An aquatic toy that is capable of maintaining a desired form and position in water, which includes a fabric portion, at least one hollow opening formed in the fabric portion, wherein buoyancy and or weight of or attached to the fabric portion 5 provide at least partial form to a perimeter of the hollow opening.